

The Law Office of D.L. Hoult

Looking for new solutions to your collection problems? The Law Office of D. L. Hoult has been handling collection accounts for companies and credit unions since 1988.

Our approach is unique. Unlike traditional law firms, our aim is to collect your outstanding accounts without resorting to litigation, if possible.

We commence each collection with a personalized legal demand letter. You may choose either a moderate or final demand letter, whichever best suits your needs. Our charge for this letter is $50.00. If the account is collected or arrangements made with you on the basis of this letter only, there is no further fee.